

“Our lives are a series of stories – events, characters, emotions – that form chapters in our life’s chronicle. I want to make them shine”

Ange McCormack

Writer | Facilitator | Coach | Speaker

Ange is a freelance writer and copywriter offering services ranging from resumes and job applications, corporate briefings and minutes, blog posts, magazine articles, web and social media content, e-newsletters, letters, stories and reflections. She loves to write and will give most things a go.

She is also an experienced facilitator, trainer and coach. These skills, combined with her leadership and teamwork strengths will guide an organisation’s strategic direction in an inclusive manner. She also enjoys having some fun along the way too.

Ange McCormack is a powerful and motivational speaker. She relishes opportunities to speak about regional and country living, being inclusive in a workplace or community, realising your potential and be all you can be, following your passion and finding your purpose.

Ange has recently joined the Xplore team as an Associate and offers Xplore’s programs to regional areas. Xplore partner with organisations, leaders and individuals to enable them to clarify their purpose, accelerate their career, embrace inclusion and lead with passion.

With over 30 years experience working in a range of fields in government and senior management Ange is a respected strategic thinker and highly experienced leader of teams. She has an excellent ability to foster relationships to expertly develop and implement major organisational strategies, communications, and information management projects.

She has a sharp emotional and social intelligence and a natural inclusive style that encourages others to strive to realise their full potential. This has been highly successful in her management of teams and programs she has delivered to long term unemployed women.

Ange believes that regional people, especially women have a wealth of talent and are a determined bunch. She passionately wants to empower them to be all they can be.

Ange has lived in farming communities in northern N.S.W all her life. She has enjoyed a successful career without having to leave the area, though sometimes there were times she did think she had to. She is married and draws much inspiration for her creative writing and speaking from raising three wonderful women who are now creating their own unique life stories. She also has a few chooks who she is currently teaching to do tricks.

---

Location: Gunnedah, N.S.W, Australia

Phone: 0455 140 266

Email: angela@countryhorizons.com.au

Website: www.countryhorizons.com.au

(February 2019)

